

Name _____

Animal Uses of Living and Nonliving Things

1. What are the three types of things used by animals for animal survival?

2. What are the living items that animals use for food?

3. Where do animals find their water?

4. What are the nonliving things that animals use for their survival in their habitats?

Rocks, soil, mountains, valleys, canyons, washes, cliffs, ledges, lake and stream water, banks of rivers and lakes, deserts, ranges, gullies, foothills, and the air.

5. What are the living things that animals use for their habitat?

Forests, meadows, grasslands, shrub lands, pastures, wooded areas, and fields.

6. What do animals have to defend themselves?

7. As I read the story about the prairie dog, turn to the animal chart and listen for the answers to fill in the blanks.

8. Look and read about other animals to learn about their living and nonliving habitat so they are able to survive.